PREFACE.

HAVING in my researches among the ancient and musty records and papers in possession of the old families of King's County (who have kindly favored me with the use of the same), gathered much genealogical and other information worthy of preservation and of use to future genealogists and historians, I take this method of endeavoring to effect that object, and of preserving the same for the use of the public, hoping that it will prove acceptable. To make the work more complete, the records of the state, county, towns, and churches have been carefully examined, and the name of every resident, and of landholders not resident therein found, inserted. That the work is so perfect as to contain the names of all such, the names of all their children, with correct dates in all cases, is not pretended, but an honest effort has been made to effect this object. Surnames and names of parents are in many cases enclosed in brackets.

Bay Ridge.

The following curious entry is copied from Lib. 3 of G<sup>d</sup> rec.: "The record of mee James Hubbard: To Certifie mine or any other of his brethren William: John: Henry & Margret wth him selve y<sup>e</sup> youngest of leaven sonns & Dafters: yet butt five known of here, of our father Henry Hubbard & our mother Margrett: of y<sup>e</sup> Towne of Langham: in y<sup>e</sup> Countye of Ruttlund yeaman: stands upon y<sup>e</sup> record of y<sup>e</sup> regester To be y<sup>e</sup> 123: Generation: As I have received by letters in y<sup>e</sup> yeare 1669: & my Children wth y<sup>e</sup> Rest of my Bretherens children are y<sup>e</sup> 124: Generation: w<sup>ch</sup> I James Hubbard of Gravesend on y<sup>e</sup> wester end of long Ile land desired To have Recorded on y<sup>e</sup> Townes Regester of Gravesend: for his Chilldren To add & to have Respect unto: for there better knowledge of There Relations in y<sup>e</sup> parts of Urope y<sup>e</sup> land of England in Cass of There Travells To Those parts."

Allowing 30 years for a generation, this would carry the genealogy of the family back over 4000 years, or to about the time of Noah's flood. If there is any foundation for the 123 generations, the inference would be that the ancestors of the Hubbard's were Jews, for they alone through the Bible trace from Noah to the days of our Saviour, and are the only race who could be supposed to make a pretence of tracing from that period to the present time. There was a James Hubbard, ag. 27, who emigrated from London to S<sup>t</sup> Christopher's in 1635, as per p. 80 of Hotten's Emigrants.

He, however, appears to have managed to remain in the town until Aug. 3, 1639, when on petition he was granted by the Director-Gen. or Gov. Kieft 100 morgens on the W.

end of L. I., lying within the present bounds of N. U. and G<sup>d</sup>, to which he removed, and for which the patent was dated May 27, 1643. Feb. 9, 1660, he sold his patent to Nicholas Stillwell for 1600 gl. and the fee of plantation-lot No. 29 in G<sup>d</sup>, with the buildings and improvements thereon, which plantation-lot Anthony sold Dec. 1669 to Fernandus Van Sickelen, his son-in-law. After this he appears to have removed back to N. A., where he died. Anthony's patent during this period was known as "Turk's plantation," from his being designated as "Turk" on some of the old records. Stillwell sold said patent Feb. 28, 1664, to Francois de Bruynne, after whom it was called Bruynnsberg. June 4, 1665, De Bruynne sold a part of the patent located on the main road from the village of N. U. to G<sup>d</sup>, and on the old Bath road or lane, to Jan Janse Ver Ryne. Dec. 10, 1678, he sold the remainder, through Anna his wife as his attorney, to Barent Joosten and Jan Hansen (Van Noortstrand). June 1, 1696, Jan Hansen of N. U. sold to Barent Joosten his one half of "Turk's plantation," containing 100 A., as per p. 98 of Lib. 2 of Con., and on the same date Joosten and Hansen conveyed the one half of said plantation to Gerret Coerten (Voorhies), as per p. 99 of said Lib. 2. U. sold to said Albert Coerten his one half of the same, as per p. 261 of said Lib. 2, thus making Albert the sole owner of the whole of the patent, except the part sold to Ver Ryne. May 9, 1747, Albert Coerten conveyed to his son Coert Voorhies, and Oct. 5, 1756, Coert conveyed to his sons Coert and Barnardus said premises. In 1879, in levelling the sand-dunes on the upland on the edge of the bay a little S.E. of the buildings of Mr. Gunther at Locust Grove, which dunes had been blown up from the beach, and which had been gradually extending back with the abrasion of the shore or coast, the remains of two separate pieces of stone wall about 2 ft. high and 1 ft. wide, made mainly of unbroken field-stones laid in clay mortar, with a clay floor between them, were exhumed. These remains were covered with from 4 to 10 ft. of sand, and are probably those of the barn or other farm buildings of Anthony Jansen, it being customary in the early settlement of this country to construct their threshing-floors of clay, of which specimens existed and were in use in this country in the younger days of the author, their roofs being made of thatched straw instead of shingles, as at present. MODY OR MOODY, LADY DEBORAH, (dau. of Walter Dunch of England and wid. of Sir Henry Mody;) and her associates, to avoid persecution in Massachusetts and New England, left said locality and came to New Netherlands, settling in 1643 in G<sup>d</sup> among the more tolerant Hollanders. In Oct. of that year she and her settlers were driven off by the Indians to Amersfoort (Fld<sup>s</sup>), where they remained to the end of the Indian war and then returned to G<sup>d</sup>. Her name, with that of Sir Henry Mody her s., Ensign George Baxter, and Serjeant James Hubbard, appears on the patent of G<sup>d</sup> of Dec. 10, 1645, and in 1646, on the laying out of the plantation-lots, she was allotted a bouwery. She appears to have owned and occupied a farm adjoining that of Robert Pennoyer, since of Van Brunt Magaw and late of Judge Samuel Smith, and, as near as can be ascertained, covering the farms late of Jacobus Lake and that late of Derrick Stryker. Nov. 22, 1648, she let all her "broken up" (cleared) land, excepting one piece she reserved for her own use, for 3 years to "Thos. Cornewill," she furnishing him with 4 oxen and 4 cows; he to pay 10 skipples of wheat per annum rent for the land and 60 gl. per annum for the use of the animals. A dispute having arisen between her and her tenant about the "breaking up" (clearing) a piece of land, and left to arbitrators, they decided May 5, 1650, that Cornewill should be allowed to crop the land next year, and that she should pay him 15 gl. on the surrender of the same, as per G<sup>d</sup> rec. She

d. in 1659, and there is a tradition that she was buried in the burying-ground in said village, with a common small field-boulder at the head of the grave to mark the same.

By an agreement entered into at "Amersfoort" while Lady Mody and her associates were located there during the Indian war, as per Lib. 2 of G<sup>d</sup> rec., it was concluded that in the settlement of G<sup>d</sup> each associate should be accommodated with a certain quantity of land within a certain fence to be erected, which said land should be divided into 28 shares or parts, each to receive a part and also a building-plot. Under this in 1646 plantation-lots were granted to

Richard Gibbons,

John Morrice,
Edward Browce,
Lady Deborah Mody,
Serjeant James Hubbard,

Of the "certain fence" referred to, each of the above-named persons was required in Dec. 1646 to keep 20 poles, and in addition the following persons, who had had plantation-lots assigned them, were also required to keep 20 poles of said fence, viz. :

* The name of Onderdonk is claimed to be derived from Donck, an elevation or a rising ground, signifying under or in the suburbs of Donck. There is, however, no such name as Donck in Holthrop's Dutch and English Dictionary, but it may be Swedish. There is a hamlet named "Donck" in "Noord Brabant."

AA of Fl<sup>h</sup> rec.; in 1680 he paid 5 gl. towards the clergyman's salary; and in 1683 was assessed for 108 A. in said town. There was an Andries Andriese, a Fin, from Westerover or Westeroos in Sweden, among the Swedes on the Delaware from 1659 to '70, who received upwards of 571 gl. from 1659 to '63 as carpenter of the galiot; his w. and house being referred to in 1662; and in 1669 was fined 50 gl. for being engaged in the rebellion of the Long Fin, as per Vol. II. and XII. of Doc. of Col. A., as per Cal. of Dutch Man.; and also an "Andries Andriezen," who took the oath of allegiance to the English after the conquest of the colony in 1664. It is probable that the Andries Andriesen of Hellgate and of N. A. was the father of Adriaen Andries, and there is some reason to suppose that the Andries Andriese the Swede was the same person. Issue:—Andries (or Andrew) Adriaense; (sup.) Adriaen Adriaense; and (sup.) Hendrick Adriaense—the two last of Foster's Meadows. Made his mark to documents in 1655, '78, and '84.

Obtained a patent May 24, 1664, for Coney I. which was afterwards declared void, as per p. 10 of Vol. X. of Part 1 of Dutch Man. He afterwards undertook the making of salt on said island, in which he was opposed by the residents of G<sup>d</sup>, who paid La Chair, their attorney, 8 skepels of gray peas for his legal services in the case, but which proved a failure from other causes. Issue:—Gysbert or Gilbert, b. 1640; Elizabeth, bp. July 27, 1644; Ludowyck, bp. June 10, 1646; Sara, bp. Oct. 23, 1650; Johannes, bp. Jan. 16, 1658; and Jacob, bp. Jan. 16, 1658—all in N. A.

The present Coney I. was, on the first settlement of this country, composed of 3 separate islands, divided from each other by inlets or guts now closed. The westernmost one was known as Coney I., the middle one as Pine I., and the easternmost one as Gisbert's or Gysbert's I., so named after Gisbert Opdyck. At a later period the easternmost one was also known as Johnson's I., from Barent and William Johnson at one period owning the tillable land (about 60 A.) on the same. About 1670 the inhabitants of G<sup>d</sup> at a town meeting directed the division of the tillable land, which appears to have been allotted among the then residents of the town, as per G<sup>d</sup> rec., as follows:

* It is claimed by some of the Schenck family that Jan and Roelof Martense Schenck are sons of Marten Schenck of Nydack or Nydeggen, a town about 18 miles southeast from Aix-la-Chapelle; that Marten's father was Peter Schenck of Nydack, b. in 1547 at Goch, a small town about 10 miles south of Cleves, m. in 1580 Johanna Scherpenzeel; and that this Peter was a brother of the celebrated Marten Schenck, a soldier of fortune and an officer of distinction in the wars of the Low Countries. Without the evidence which has been gathered in Holland of the genealogy of the family, the name would imply a relationship to the soldier and warrior, but it is singular, if this account is correct, that the name of Peter does not appear in the family until the fourth generation, when it is well known that it was the custom of the Netherlands to perpetuate the names of their ancestors, which custom prevails among many of their descendants in this country to this day. These Schencks, according to tradition, owned vessels which traded with the Netherlands, which often, by way of Rockaway Inlet, came into Flatlands or Jamaica Bay to deliver or receive goods from their owners.

There was a "Wessel Schenck" among the members of the company chartered Oct. 11, 1614, for an exclusive trade of three years with the New Netherlands, as per p. 149 of Vol. I. of Doc. of Col. His.

North Holland in the Netherlands; and New Lots as "Oostwoud," from a village of that name near "Midwoud." The other towns in Kings Co. (except Bushwick) being named by the first settlers after the localities in the fatherland from which some of them came, the inference appears to be a fair one that it was also the case with Flatbush, especially since at least one of its early settlers came from Hauwert or Hoogwoud, a village in the vicinity of "Midwoud" and "Oostwoud." The earliest document on which Flatbush is designated as Midwout, which has come to the notice of the compiler, is on a grant of land to Jacob Corlaer of Oct. 7, 1652, on p. 129 of Cal. of Dutch His. Man. The name on the early colonial and town records is generally written "Midwout." The principal exceptions, caused by the peculiar methods of spelling of different town-clerks and others, are that from 1660 to 1680 it appears on the town records as "Midewout," "Midwoudt," "Middewout," "Middwout," "Middelwoudt," "Middlewout," and "Midelwout;" from 1700 to 1712 as "Midwoud;" afterwards as "Midwout" (with the exception of 1760, in which year at least in one case Jeremias Vanderbilt, the town-clerk, wrote it "Midderwout"). See pp. 30 and 71 of Lib. A of Fl<sup>h</sup> town rec.; pp. 4, 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ , 17, 19, 30, 31, 42, 43, 45, 49, and 79 of Lib. B; and p. 115 of Lib. AA of do. From about the period of the Revolutionary war the town has been known as "Flatbush," the former name having been dropped. The name "Flatbush" was, however, occasionally used at an early date; as an instance, it appears on a deed of Nov. 24, 1654, of Dirck Jansen to Cor<sup>s</sup> Van Ruyven, of premises "in Flatbush, otherwise called Midwout," as per p. 58 of said Cal. of Dutch Man. The name of "Vlachte Bos" and "Flackebos," the Dutch for flat woods or level woods, was also occasionally used.

He appears to have removed to Hempstead, where he resided in 1670, having sons Thomas Jun<sup>r</sup> and John, whose descendants reside in that locality. He was also probably the ancestor of the Southards of N. J. Abraham, son of Thomas Jun<sup>r</sup>, settled in Bernardstown, N. J., whose grandson, the Hon. Samuel L. Southard, represented N. J. as Senator in the Congress of 1821, in 1823 was Secretary of the Navy, in 1841 chosen president of the Senate, and on the death of Harrison, in April of that year, acting Vice-President, as per p. 47 of Vol 2 of Thompson's L. Nicholas, the emigrant and ancestor of the Stillwells of this vicinity (English), came to this country about 1638 from Holland, and settled at first on Manhattan I. He m. 1st Abigail dau. of Robert Hopton; m. 2<sup>d</sup> Ann Van Dyke of Holland; d. Dec. 22, 1671, at Dover, S. I. His wid. m. 2<sup>d</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Wilkins. In 1639 he located a tobacco plantation on Manhattan I., and in 1643 purchased a house and lot on the present Beaver St. in N. A. When the Lady Mody in 1643, accompanied by several Englishmen from Massachusetts, undertook the settlement of G<sup>d</sup> ("Graoenzande"), he with other Englishmen who had previously settled on Manhattan I. joined her and took up lots in the new settlement. In the Indian war which took place shortly after the commencement of the settlement, and caused its temporary abandonment, as Lieut. Stillwell he defended the place, and afterwards appears to have returned to N. A. In 1648 he bought of Richard Dunn the village lot in G<sup>d</sup> which Dunn had bought of Ralph Cardell, this being the first account of his owning land in said town after its abandonment during the Indian war, his name not appearing among the associates who in 1646, '47, and '48 were allotted plantation-lots of 50 A. Oct. 6, 1649, he bought of George Homes, for his s. Richard, Homes's plantation-lot, for which he agreed to pay 900 lb. of good merchantable tobacco. This plantation he agreed Oct. 10, 1650, to sell to Richard Cluffe for the use of Thomas Doxsey. By O'Callaghan's Register he was a mag. of G<sup>d</sup> in 1650 and '51, a mag. of Fld<sup>s</sup> in 1654 and '55, where he probably resided at that date, and a mag. of G<sup>d</sup> in 1657 and '64. Dec. 27, 1657, he sold to John Bowne 12 A. lying on the "Cellers Neck" (Sellers Neck), being part of plantation-lot No. 40, which lot No. 40 he bought Aug. 25, 1654, of the agent of William Hallet. Aug. 29, 1659, he sold John Wilson a part of plantation-lot No. 40—all as per G<sup>d</sup> rec. Feb. 9, 1660, he bought of Anthony Jansen from Salee his patent of 100 morgens. Apl. 2, 1660, he sold to Richard Aste 12 A. of the E. end of the plantation he bought of Anthony Johnson, as per G<sup>d</sup> rec. Jan. 15, 1663, he sold to Mr. Francoys de Bruynne, for 700 gl. in wampum, the balance of said plantation; reasonable satisfaction to be made by said Francoys to "my son in law Nathaniell Brittanie at or upon the 25th of March next for the house and housing which hee the said Nathaniell built upon said land." All the above G<sup>d</sup> and N. U. purchases copied from the G<sup>d</sup> town rec., on which numerous other purchases and sales of Nicholas are entered. Nicholas

Stillwell is entitled to credit for never swerving from his allegiance to the Dutch government, which is more than can be said of many of his English neighbors, who, on what they supposed to be the first favorable opportunity, proved themselves to be traitors to the colony to which they fled from persecution, and to which they were indebted for protection and the enjoyment of religious liberty. In 1663 he was an ensign in the Esopus expedition against the Indians, and the same year commissioned as lieut., as per Col. Man. He finally removed to Dover, S. I., where he d. Dec. 22, 1671, his will being da. Dec. 22, 1671; pro. June 17, 1672; and rec. p. 161, Lib. 1, N. Y. surr. off. His wid., Ann Stillwell of Dover, bought June 21, 1672, of Jan Jansen Ver Rhyn plantation-lot No. 18, with the buildings in G<sup>d</sup>, as per town rec. Issue by 1st w., as per Memoirs of Stillwell Family:—Richard, b. 1634; Nicholas 2<sup>d</sup>, b. 1636; (by 2<sup>d</sup> w.) Anne, b. 1643, m. 1660 Nathaniel Brittan; Ales or Abigail, b. 1645, m. Oct. 26, 1665, Samuel Holmes; William, bp. May 11, 1648; Thomas, bp. July 9, 1651; Daniel, bp. Nov. 1, 1653, in N. A.; Jeremiah, bp. Jan. 13, 1663, in N. A.; and Elias. Made his mark to manuscripts with a bungling reversed "N," in no manner resembling that which would be made by a scholar with his left hand, who had had the misfortune of losing his right one as has been claimed. Dr. J. E. Stillwell of N. Y., in behalf of the claim that Nicholas made his mark in consequence of the loss of his right arm, has exhibited to the compiler of this work an original and genuine document (stating that he had seen another) on which his name was subscribed in full in a good and legible hand. Against this evidence are documents of a prior date, with numerous ones later, with the bungling mark, from which it may fairly be inferred that the name on the document exhibited had been written by some other person at Nicholas's request, as is occasionally done at the present day.

J., of which place he was one of the patentees or original purchasers of the Indians, as per p. 73 of Vol. I. of Raum's N. J. There is a story, founded on tradition, on p. 76, etc., of said Vol., of the shipwreck of a Dutch sloop on Sandy Hook; of the crew and passengers leaving a sick young Dutchman and his wife there while they went for relief; of the Indians tomahawking the man, mangling the wife and leaving her for dead; of her recovering and crawling into a hollow log and subsisting for several days on berries, and then being discovered and taken prisoner and her life preserved by an old Indian, ransomed by the Dutch of N. Y., where she married Richard Stout, being at the time in her 22<sup>d</sup> year and he in his 40th. They settled at Middletown, where the old Indian often visited her, and on one occasion, by informing her of a plot to massacre the whites, put them on their guard and saved the settlement from destruction. This woman, whose maiden name was Penelope Van Prince, lived to the age of 110 years, her posterity numbering 502 at the time of her death. There being an agreement entered into Dec. 25, 1666, N. S., with a schoolmaster and precentor for Fl<sup>h</sup> (but no name given), as per p. 87 of said Lib. D, it appears probable that this agreement was made with Tiebout, and that he commenced his services at Christmas 1666, continuing them until about Nov. 1, 1670, O. S., when Jacob Joosten commenced, and was succeeded by Jan Gerretse Van Marcken, who was discharged Mar. 2, 1681. VAN ENGEN, WILLEM WILLEMSE, among the first settlers of N. U. in 1657, and allotted a plantation which he sold May 9, 1661, to Rutger Joesten Van Brunt. VAN GIESEN, REYNIER BASTIAENSEN, probably from Giesen, a village in North Brabant, m. D. ch. of said place to teach school, perform the duties of court messenger, to ring the bell, keep the church in order, perform the duties of precentor, attend to the burial of the dead, and all that was necessary and proper in the premises, for an annual salary of 200 florens exclusive of perquisites. This agreement was signed by Adriaen Hegeman, Willem Jacobse Van Boerum, Elbert Elbertsen, Jan Snediker, Jan Strycker, and Pieter Cornelise, probably as mag. of Fl<sup>h</sup> and Fld<sup>s</sup>, and by Johannes Theodorus Polhemius, Jan Snediker, Jan Strycker, and Willem Jacobse Van Boerum, as the consistory of the church, on the one part, and by Reinier Van Giesen (omitting the "Bastiaensen" which is inserted in the body of the instrument), of the other part, for which see p. 24 of Lib. B of Fl<sup>h</sup> rec. Strong on p. 109 of his History of Fl<sup>h</sup> places Adriaen Hegeman as the first schoolmaster of the town, and as serving from 1659 to '71, omitting Van Giesen from his list. The above agreement shows this to be an error; and that Van Giesen was probably the first schoolmaster. Jan. 6, 1663, he sold to Jan Strycker a house and lot in Fl<sup>h</sup>, styling himself in the deed "court attendant," as per p. 117 of Lib. B of Fl<sup>h</sup> rec. If after the lessee has been a year on the land he finds it necessary to have a pair of draught oxen, the lessor to furnish them, for which a reasonable compensation to be given. If the lessee in the last year of the term sows any of the land with winter grain, the lessor to allow what is reasonable for the same. In addition the lessor to furnish the lessee with 2 sows, for which he is to be annually entitled to one half of the increase. The lessor sells to the lessee a canoe, for which he is to deliver to the lessor on the shores of Manhattan I. 2000 pieces of wood in the month of June of this year. The lessor must also, on the edge of the land of Mr. Poulus, where there stands a 3-rail fence, change it to a 5-rail one, an increase of about 50 rails. It is also expressly understood that such firewood as the lessee may cut to sell at the Manhattans the lessor shall have the privilege to purchase at the market price in preference to his selling to others. If it occurs that the lessor during the continuance of the lease from any cause should conclude to build and reside on the premises, if not damaging to the lessee, the lessor to be entitled so to do. The above is a translation of the main part of the record in Dutch of this lease, as recorded on p. 91 of Lib. D of Fl<sup>h</sup> rec., and is given as a specimen of an ancient lease showing the customs of the times. The plantation referred to is the one occupied by Simon De Hart when visited in 1679 by the De Labidists, as set forth in Vol. 1 of the Transactions of the L. I. His. Soc., late the farms of Simon and John S. Bergen at Gowanus. The adjoining plantation of Vander Beeck is the one lately occupied by Garret Bergen. He made his mark to documents.

VOS or VOSCH, BALTHAZER Jun<sup>r</sup>, sometimes written Joncker de Vosch (young de Vosch), emigrated from Utrecht in 1662; bought in July of that year 2 farms in Fl<sup>h</sup>, as per pp. 103 and 105 of Lib. B of Fl<sup>h</sup> rec.; and settled in N. U., of which town he was a mag. in 1663, '64, and '65. In 1665 he and Jacques Cortelyou represented N. U. in what is commonly known as the Duke's Convention or Assembly of the Colony, which met at Hempstead, and in which was enacted what is known as the Duke's laws. Singularly by Thompson and nearly all of our historians, he is designated as "Younger Hope," the "Younger" being probably derived from "Joncker," which means young mister or junior, but how "Vosch" or "de Vosch" became transformed into "Hope" is not so easily explained, especially when the English of the Dutch word "Vos" is "Fox." Jan. 16, 1665, he bought of Claes Claesen (Smit) a plantation in N. U., between that of Jacob Swart and that of Albert Albertse (Terhune). He removed from N. U. to Fld<sup>s</sup>, where he resided Dec. 6, 1669, at which date he bought of Ferdinandus Van Sicckelen a parcel of land with the improvements in G<sup>d</sup>, as per G<sup>d</sup> rec.
